Remarks :

Introduced in 2015 the Italian designed, Polish built VIKO S21 is a relative newcomer to the UK and stands up well against similar boats such as the Jeanneau Sun Odyssey 211; her designers focused on creating a construction capable of the highest quality performance using Shell technology and hand-laid GRP, making her an unique unit amongst other yachts in her category.

The VIKO S21 is a modern trailer-sailer with a surprising amount of space. Her long waterline and broad transom with chines help increase stability and add to the accommodation and volume aft, while her high freeboard also contributes to the space below deck and helps the entire length of the boat to be used to good effect. The cabin offers an airy rectangular athwartships double berth below the cockpit and one other double, a head, cold running water, shore power and a small camping stove. On deck there is a large cockpit with easy access to the sails and rigging. When not under sail the is a 4 stroke Mariner 5HP outboard with a 12 litre auxiliary tank.

With her lifting keel "Mina" provides an excellent range of cruising options. Not only is she particularly suitable for the confines of Chichester Harbour and the protected inshore waters of the Solent, but with a towing weight of only 1,500kg she is also suitable for sailing inland as well.

The VIKO S21 makes for a safe and reliable yacht, easy to sail and able to handle the most challenging conditions. With its immense versatility, extraordinary amount of volume below decks and dynamic performance under the sail the VIKO S21 is a quick, easily manoeuvrable boat and a perfect match for those looking for a smart yacht with great potential for either day sailing or weekend getaways. If you like fast and fun sailing you will love this little, lively category C boat.

Viewing, which is by prior appointment, is highly recommended.
