Accommodation

The interior of this Barracuda 9 is bathed in light, thanks to the vast amount of natural light from the large windows (grey tinted translucent glass) and roof lights. This gives her owner excellent visibility when underway or mooring where sight lines are important. There are two bench seats opposite each other at the back of the pilot, ideally placed for when the aft sliding doors are open, with a drop down table which is stowed in deck head when not in use and maximum access is required.

Further seating is situated at the helm station where a sliding bench seat with adjustable bolster can accommodate two people at the helm when underway. Under this seat the fridge is neatly position with the sink and gas burn opposite on the port side.

The helm station ergonomically laid out with plotter centrally placed, electric throttles on the starboard side and VHF situation up high above the front windscreen.

Saloon doors provide privacy from the accommodation which is forward and comprises of double berth with insert in the bow and second sleeping area aft, under nether the pilot house and with its own direction access from the pilot house sole. This accommodation area also benefits from a large, elongated window which supplies lots of natural light to this compartment. Marine heads are situated on starboard and have their own separate compartment complete with sink and pull out head complete with sink and pull out head for sharing for sharing. As is now a legal requirement there is a holding tank for the heads which can be either discharged at sea or pumped out in port.

Remarks :

We are pleased to offer this high specification Nearly New BARRACUDA 9 for sale. Possibly the ultimately finishing boat but equally attractive for easy and safe walk around deck access which is facilitated by the generous gunwale door. This is a very capable boat that marries the patented Air Stepped Hull with twin Suzuki DF200APX (2x200hp) engines resulting in a Category B Offshore CE rating.

This three door version with its large glass sliding doors leads onto the aft deck which is extremely flexible with its fold down bench seats and versatile central sliding bench seat which can be configured to suit the activity. If fishing is your intended use the boat has a live bait well and salt water deck wash and plenty of rod holders to multiple lines.
