REVIEW:

'It is no secret that Fairline are well pleased with their new flagship - as they have every right to be.' the report goes on to say 'Personally i was amazed at the standard achieved on this first boat: Fairline have got it dead right first time, with no more than a handful of very minor points needing attention. The Squadron 62's styling and appointments give nothing away to the continental competition, while delivering a standard of performance that must be the envy of many competitors' Motorboat and Yachting - 1992
