Remarks :

Beneteau, the Cyclades 43 focuses on functionality and spacious living. On deck, the large cockpit with dual helm positions provides comfort whether sailing or simply moving around the boat. The cockpit has been designed to make this yacht a delight for open air dining, but functionality has not been over looked with Genoa winches located near to the helm, making maneuvering under sail as simple as possible.

Down below, the layout features 3 cabins all with en suite head compartments. The practical linear galley to port has ample work surfaces and sits comfortably opposite the spacious U shaped saloon. There is plenty of well thought out stowage space throughout the yacht and generous capacity for both fuel and water mean increased comfort whilst on board.

The Cyclades is Beneteau third range, after the Beneteau First and Oceanis ranges. The hull has a lot of volume, the effect of a lot of freeboard and flare in the hull sides. The rig adopts more desirable characteristics of current racing rigs. The mast is deck stepped with its load taken by the compression post below. The sail area/ displacement ratio is on the money for a cruising boat of this size. Below this boat is functional, there are three cabins, each with its own en-suite. There is a full navigation area a real show piece of the Cyclades range.
