Accommodation

COCKPIT AND HELM STATION

From the helm, all instruments and controls are readily available and easy to see and use. You can see all points of the yacht and control sails with the winches, two of which are electric.

The cockpit table and lots of seating make this the favourite entertaining/dining area of the yacht. The cockpit refrigerator under the starboard seat is big enough to handle all your beverages and can also be a freezer when needed.

Under the seats, port and aft, are large storage lockers and a built-in scuba tank (4) holder/rack.

On the aft of the center seating are four compartments used for fishing equipment and

Snorkel/scuba gear

The double transom walk throughs allow access to the stern areas. There is a stern walkway with a food preparation area complete with a large gas Webber BBQ grill just forward of the dinghy davits.

The dinghy is positioned on the davit arms via the boom extension and main halyard, which hauls the dinghy up and onto the davits.

The cockpit has three drop down sunbrella curtains for sun and rain control.

INTERIOR – DOMESTIC

4 doubles Staterooms

Headroom- Average 2M / 6ft 6 ‘

Heads 2 en-suite plus one skipper cabin

ACCOMMODATIONS: SALOON

Well-equipped salon is entered from the cockpit via double sliding glass doors.

The u-shaped settee is upholstered in pale grey leather.

The varnished maple dining table is accented with an inlaid compass rose.

Forward in the saloon, there is a large shelf and dual wine racks on centreline.

The 360 degree panoramic view from the salon windows and doors make the area bright and cheerful.

The windows have removable sunscreens which keep the saloon cool on very hot days.

Aft to port in the salon is an entertainment centre with a Samsung led flat screen tv, a wine rack and glass cabinet with an isotherm 200lt fridge freezer combo unit.

NAVIGATION STATION

To starboard of the dining area forward is the navigation station.

The navigation station is the control centre for MEKA.

From this area you have access to 12vdc and 110vac breakers, water maker control - monitor, battery banks and charging systems, generator start/stop/monitor, vhf radio,

And stereo CD/DVD/fm/am combo, tank gauges, air/con

1 x 12v power access point (cigarette lighter adaptor)

A vented shelf on top which houses the hp wireless printer and internet and a convenient drawer complete this well designed, functional station.

Aft of the navigation station in the main salon is the galley.

THE GALLEY

Designed with functionality in mind, this u-shaped galley offers Corian countertops and storage above and below.

The microwave, gas stove and oven with rotisserie make preparing meals a real joy. A double sink with a separate rinse/drain compartment adds a touch of class.

A complete inventory of dishes, glasses, pots and pans, silverware and cooking utensils is included.

STATEROOMS

Each hull boasts 2 double en-suite staterooms.

Starboard is a mirror image of port.

The aft staterooms have queen size beds, hanging clothes lockers, and room for all your personal items. There is a large storage compartment under the bed accessible

Through the doors at the foot of the bed, or by lifting the entire bed, effortlessly, with the help of the built in gas struts. Two opening port lights create flow through air ventilation. 3 x 12v lighting and 1 x fan in each stateroom.

In the forepeaks are crew quarters and another head with manual toilet, shower, and lots of storage.

Large en-suite heads have separate glass shower enclosures, electric toilets, two opening ports, stainless steel faucets, Corian counter tops and nicely trimmed

Maple cabinetry.

The forward staterooms have the same attributes as the aft staterooms, but, also include a ?vanity? dressing area, two cabinets set at 45 degrees with large mirrored doors

The forward heads also have separate glass shower enclosures, electric toilets, Corian counter tops, and superbly finished cabinetry

The Knysna 480- Stunning, serious cruising catamaran.

Designed by the Angelo Lavranos, who balances aesthetic design, engineering, and with offshore experience. Knysna may not be the best -known name in the field of vanilla catamarans but it doesn't have to be. The quality and attention to detail speaks for itself. In addition, this yacht has only had one owner her entire life.

MEKA is a nicely performing blue water tough catamaran for voyaging that offers beautiful interior woodwork and finish and sturdy build.

She will easily pull speeds in the low teens and sail 20% faster than most production cats. She has an elevated bridge deck, hard-top bimini cleanly integrated into a streamlined coach-house, protected bulkhead helm station that offers excellent visibility of sail plan and from which helmsman has access to all lines and winches, wide open deck space and aft walkways ensure safe boat handling and movement, spacious cockpit area for entertaining and modern interior styling.

The quality of build and attention to detail is evident throughout.

Same hull as the Knysna 500 in every respect but her sterns – her interior volume is identical.
