Accommodation

Remarks :

Caraway is a beautifully cared-for example of the Kestrel 22. Originally built in wood from the 1950s until late 1960s, the Kestrel was conceived as a small, inexpensive cruiser suitable for weekend sailing in shallow waters. A wooden version with three berths in two cabins, a 9hp Volvo inboard and good size cockpit, she will perfectly suit a couple or small family looking for quiet river and estuary cruising or trips on the Broads. Available to view at Titchmarsh Marina, offers on the asking price may be considered.
