Owners comments

We bought Harbinger from the original owners in 2001, and after sailing around the Solent and along the South Coast as far as The Scilly Isles and across the Channel to France / Brittany for a few years, we set off for the Mediterranean in 2005.

Having reached the Algarve, in Portugal, and over-wintered there, we made our way down to Gibraltar and into the Mediterranean, where we went as far south as Sicily and Malta, before heading east to Greece and then as far as Antalya, in Turkey.

We came home via the Adriatic, spending 10 days in Albania before reaching Montenegro, Croatia, Slovenia and Italy - a highlight being sailing into Venice. Harbinger was then transported overland from Slovenia to Belgium, from where we sailed her home in 2015. In 2018 we sailed to Holland and explored some of the inland waterways. We have had some great adventures, but are now 20 years older than when we first bought her, and it is time we let someone else have the pleasure of owning and sailing her.
