Accommodation

The new design reflects the progression of the Merry Fishers' signature towards a constant search for the maximum amount of natural light. The plunging shape and the size of the side windows and panoramic windscreen make it very light inside and provide a real sea view when you are sitting in the saloon. The sliding roof panel, which is also transparent, provides good ventilation. The rear 3-leaf sliding door with a maximum amount of opening space provides an excellent link between the wheelhouse and the cockpit.

The new Merry Fisher 795 provides even more comfort and space on board: inward-facing saloon that can be converted into berths, forward cabin with a double berth and shelves, separate head. The co-pilot has his/her own navigation seating, which provides 2 seats facing the sea and is set up by simply tilting the back. Its maximum living space and the on-board facilities for comfort make for a real family coastal cruise program.

The cockpit is accessed from huge single-level platforms. It is secured by a cockpit gate, which greatly facilitates boarding. The cockpit, wide and open to the outside, provides a sociable atmosphere with a U-shaped cockpit lounge, which can be converted into a sundeck (optional). The cockpit can still be used when the engine is raised in the marina thanks to an ingenious central sliding seat.
