Accommodation

Resolutely turned toward a cruising lifestyle, the Merry Fisher 895 offers incredible sea views and bright natural lighting in each living space. The superb saloon features glass windows affording a 360° view, the magnificent owner’s cabin features an island berth and windows in the hull, and the guest cabin also features a wide view of the sea, for a level of comfort that is unequaled in this size category. Ergonomic design serves to increase safety and comfort on board. The recessed side deck, the opening side gate, and the well-sheltered cockpit are particularly safe, especially for children. The side door to the helm station remains an incomparable safety feature for the pilot, who thus has direct access to the exterior for maneuvers.

A true distillation of Jeanneau savoir-faire, the new Merry Fisher 895 features equipment entirely dedicated to enhancing comfort on board. The retractable forward bench seating offers the chance to better enjoy the view while at anchorage; the spacious cockpit saloon converts into a sundeck, and the bench seating in the interior helm station allows the pilot to share navigation with a co-pilot.
