Remarks :

Norwegian-built, the Fjord's are structurally strong and make good use of interior space. This 1200 model is the perfect size for exploring the scattered islands in the Southern Ionian; small enough to slip into berths on town quays and to anchor in some of the more secluded bays, with the power to comfortably and quickly get around.

The current owners have shown great care in maintaining and updating the boat, with improvements made in all areas, not just cosmetic. They now look to sell, quite reluctantly, needing something slightly bigger to accommodate their growing family.
