Remarks :

A very nice example of a 1996 Hunter Pilot 27 "Twin Fin" Keel, designed by David Thomas and built by British Hunter. The two keels are asymmetric and angled to provide lift when heeled. This boat has been well looked after by her current owners and is well worth a viewing.

She is an ideal boat for coastal cruising and exploring the shallow areas in the harbours and coves with her low draft and easy handling capabilities. Suitable for a couple or a small family to enjoy the space in her well-designed layout with private cabins both forward and aft, along with a nice size cockpit.

The dual helm positions have a wheel in the saloon and a tiller in the cockpit, along with a remote radio in the cockpit and navigation equipment inside allowing you to still use the boat in the more inclement weather.
