History & Construction

1972 saw Sealines founder Tom Murrant, set out to design his perfect small family cruiser as a solution to the lack of choice on the market. Today Sealine are still going strong – focusing on quality design, innovation and challenging convention in the boat industry.

"Silver Dream" has been owned by the current owners for the last 6 months, and being sold as no longer boating. A 2018 survey is available on request. All items identified have been corrected. In August 2018 this boat was fully serviced, anti-fouled. The leg and propeller were last serviced in July 2017.

Accommodation

The Sealine S23 affords accommodation for four to six people in 2 cabins, with the upholstery finished in blue velour with blue cushions and curtains, beige carpets, and cherry wood finish surrounds. The saloon has approximately 6' headroom, Heated throughout by an Eberspacher D2 Airtronic diesel heating system.

The Forward dinette converts into a double berth. The Galley is to port with a gas cooker with two hobs, and grill. There is a 12v refrigerator with ice box, stainless steel sink with hot and cold water heated by the engine via the calorifier. The Heads compartment is to starboard with washbasin, shower and marine toilet. The Aft cabin located under the cockpit floor has a double berth. A new Bluetooth stereo fitted in 2018.
