Remarks :

From a racing point of view, the X-Yachts X-102 Mk11 has some exceptional sailing characteristics, its forte being windward work and light winds. The boat is very responsive to rudder and sail trim, almost dinghy like. The X-102 Mk11 is both stiff and dry. The engine is located just behind the mast, weight in bow and stern is reduced to a minimum by omitting unneeded interior in these areas. This improves upwind pointing and off wind performance. This is a good example of a well and regularly maintained X-102 Mk11 with lots of possibilities for cruising and racing with family and friends.
