Accommodation

Manufacturer Provided Description

The Ferretti Altura 690 has been given a name which evokes a successful philosophy that has shaped the history of motor yachts worldwide. The comfort above all, provided by plenty of space that made it possible to "live" on board. But also the structure specially designed for cruising, and therefore able to provide a considerable autonomy. And the details, designed with a more nautical approach, using plenty of wood in the interiors for example, or the window over the bedhead, overlooking the spoiler, giving a fabulous view of the sea. The Ferretti Altura 690 is indeed a perfect combination of a motor yacht with an AFT cabin (in order to guarantee the maximum privacy for the owner) designed for medium to long range cruises ? a sort of second home also suited to river navigation, and a flying bridge yacht designed with all the technical and design features of FERRETTI YACHTS. Disclaimer
